Hiking Trails

Peninsula Petroglyph

Trail: This ¼-mile self-guided trail is accessible from the campground and is open during daylight hours. The trail requires a mild climb. A number of petroglyphs (pictures carved on stone) and interpretive signs are easily visible from the trail. This trail connects to several loop trails totaling 1½ miles of additional trail around the edge and top of the hill.

Buffalo Trail: 2 miles in length. Trail is named for a group of bison that were kept near the front entrance in the past. The trail has trailheads located at the park entrance and on either side of the "B" Loop campsites. This hike requires accessing some steep, vertical inclines and steps.

Pointe Trail: Short trail approximately 1 mile long. It starts at the north end of the Day Use area and joins two loops on top of the hill that overlooks the pointe near the Group Use Area. Moderate inclines and some steps are found at the beginning of this trail.

Make Reservations at AZStateParks.com or call 1-877-MY-PARKS, 7 days a week, from 8 am to 5 pm MST. A non-refundable reservation fee of $5.00 is required.

Camping Cabins

Eight log camping cabins are available by reservation. They overlook Lyman Lake with covered wood porches and comfortable features. Cabins are furnished with 2 single, bunk style beds with mattresses, a full size bed with mattress, 1 table, 4 chairs, electricity, light, heat, air conditioning, and a lockable door. Campers must supply their own linens.

Cabins are accessible by car and RV and equipped with water and electric hook-ups outside. Picnic tables and charcoal grills make for a well-equipped outdoor setting. Restrooms and showers are within walking distance. Cabins sleep up to four people, with a maximum capacity of six people.

Lyman Lake State Park

Created as an irrigation reservoir by damming the Little Colorado River, Lyman Lake State Park is a 1,200-acre park that encompasses the shoreline of a 1,500-acre reservoir at an elevation of 6,000 feet. It is fed by snowmelt from the slopes of Mount Baldy and Escudilla Mountain, the second and third highest mountains in Arizona. Water is channeled into this river valley from a 790-square-mile watershed extending into New Mexico. Note: There are no boat rentals at this park, but the park does sell gasoline.

Because of its size, Lyman Lake is one of the few bodies of water in northeastern Arizona with no size restrictions on boats. The west end of the lake is buoyed off and restricted as a no wake area (5 mph). This allows the angler a chance at a variety of fish without the proximity of speedboats and water-skiers. The fishery consists of walleye, channel catfish and largemouth bass. The large remainder of the lake is open for all other types of water sports.

The park comes into its own during the spring, summer, and fall. Summer days, with temperature highs in the 80's to low 90's, are perfect for fishing, swimming, leisure boating, water-skiing, hiking or just relaxing.
